

DFL051A

Back laminate with a clear base liner for good visibility of back printing prior to card pulling. The lift edges allow for easy removal of the card from the carrier sheet. This back laminate should be used for cards with high color as the clear liner allows for good visibility. The 2.0 mil (50 micron) film base liner is thin and processes well. The peel of the card is smooth. The lift edges allow for a tighter bond of the card to the sheet to accommodate heavier processing during production. The A pattern is for one up Integral ID cards and the width is 4.0" wide. The back of the clear patch is chem treated to allow for some printing and improved processing through digital and folding equipment.
